* to avoid constant repetition, from now on KCTC should be read as “Kiwanis Community Theater Center in Sault, Ontario”. Tickets for events in the center and elsewhere are available in the Station Mall Box Office (1-705-945-7299) online at http://www.kctc.ca/. Be aware that a processing fee of $5 to $5.50 per ticket is added to the ticket price, so a ticket listed at $35 is actually $35 plus the fee.

See p. 14 for more information on last month’s 5 x 7 Show.
ANTHONY STRUBLIC

Tony Strublic lives in northern Wisconsin, close to where he grew up. He is part owner of Center Bowl in Pestigo, Wisconsin and owns and manages a Bowling Pro Shop in Marinette. He began painting as a youngster and focusing on ships not much later. A move to Marinette shifted his focus from ocean going ships to Great Lakes freighters.

His early drawings were of traditional freighter with cabins fore and aft, but he has steadily increased his scope, first to the more modern vessels, then to lighthouses and ocean vessels. From the beginning he has drawn in pencil; all his finely detailed drawings are in graphite.

Tony attended his first Sault Summer Arts Festival in 2013. He won an Honorable Mention that year and the next and the Graphics Award last year. He came to our 2015 festival fresh from winning the Best of Show Award in the Waterfront Arts Festival in Escanaba. His work, both original drawings and prints, is available in Alberta House and on his website: http://www.greatlakesartwork.webs.com.

Tony Strublic is available for commissions as well (715-923-2695 or e-mail: greatlakeartist@yahoo.com.)

This exhibition, his third in Alberta House, takes him back to his roots—all the drawings are of ships of the Great Lakes.
JANET BONNELL

We used to say that Janet Bonnell made pine needle baskets, but more and more, they’re sculptures and while they may be woven of pine needles, they incorporate other natural materials as well. What viewers will notice, in addition to the smoothly sculptural designs of Janet’s work, is the exquisite craftsmanship that goes into each piece. Each stitch is perfectly spaced and executed—not there just to hold the piece together but an integral part of the design. In many crafts that involve stitches one wants the stitches to disappear. Here they, quite rightly, stand out.

Listing her awards is a real chore because there are so many that it’s easy to leave some out or mix them up, but we’ll list some anyway. Janet first entered the Sault Summer Arts Festival in 2005 and won the Best of Crafts Award. She repeated the performance in 2006, 2008, 2012 and 2014. She won the Aarre Lahti Design Award in 2009 and in 2013 she won the Best of Show. At the Cheboygan Fine Arts Fair she won the "Best in Craft" award in both 2009 and 2010, Second Place in Fine Arts in 2013 and First Place in Fine Arts in 2014. Although she was at our festival last August, she wasn’t in it because she had sold all of her baskets by then.

This year she was one of five finalists for the national Niche Award in basketry (see entry at top right). You can learn more about her and see a beautiful array of her work on her website: www.pineywoodsbasketart.com.

Janet summers on Sugar Island and winters in Arizona. She has been affiliated with the Sault Area Arts Council since 2004 and her work is displayed and sold in Alberta House. If you go to Alberta House very often, you’ve probably met her because in the summer she is one of our most faithful volunteers. Janet is a busy lady who frequently demonstrates and teaches in various locations in the EUP. She will be demonstrating at the Les Cheneaux Historical Museum Wednesday, July 5, from noon to 3 p.m.

Next Month in Alberta House

July 1 to 30:

Yoshio Van Voorhies: Eye on Nature. Yoshiko works in w/c, pen & ink, graphite & acrylics.

Lori Feldpausch: A View of Michigan. Oil paintings

FATHERS DAY IS JUNE 19

Shopping for dads is hard, but the Alberta House Shop is full of the sort of things that dads enjoy, from nautical paintings and prints; drawings and paintings of this area and books by local authors, to man size mugs and bowls. You’ll find unique, locally crafted boxes, bowls and baskets to corral his keys and change; masculine chain mail jewelry; warm festival sweatshirts for chilly mornings; notecard with drawings of local scenes and wildlife—all of it art that’s local and useful but not frilly. Why go trudging through a crowd in a big store when you can step into our bright shop and find the perfect gift?

Open Tuesday and Thursday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Wednesday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Art related events are scheduled June 2, 7, 8, 9, 11, 14, 16, 21, 22, 23, 28 and 30. See date listings for details. E-books, thousands of titles, are available for checkout.

MAIN GALLERY

Art in Bloom: With this event the Art Gallery of Algoma (AGA) is celebrating the arrival of spring and honoring Earth Day. Art in Bloom is a popular event at many art galleries and museum across North America.

The event will involve display of artwork for this exhibition was based on the use of color and shapes, some obvious, some challenging or inspiring choices for inspiring floral creations. See photo, p. 11.

Upcoming Exhibition:
Living Spirit Indigenous Art from AGA Permanent Collection and by local First Nation Artists

PROJECT ROOM, to June 26: From Shimmer to Force: Wonderment of Water

EDUCATION GALLERY, to June 12: “Interval”. This final exhibition of work by students enrolled in the Fine Arts Thesis course invites you to consider that interval between seeing and knowing; between what is observed and what is imagined. For both Taylor Jolin and Allan Assels, it is in those infinitesimal slivers of time that we can find insights into our world.

JEANNE TUBMAN RECEIVES INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION

Denmark’s Hemple Paint Company, one of the largest marine coating manufactures in the world, has distributed a calendar for the last fifty years and each year chooses a different theme. Vahle+nikolaisen, a graphic design company, also based in Denmark produces the calendar for Hemple. In 2010, “Heading Home” (left), Jeanne Tubman’s painting of the U.S.C.G. Mackinaw, was chosen for the cover of the Hemple calendar “Icebreakers”.

The theme for the 2017 calendar is “tankers”, and Hemple has chosen six historic vessels which Vahle+nikolaisen has commissioned Jeanne to paint. The first is the “Zoroaster” an 1877 steamer with a separate oil tank built into the ship. That will be followed by the “Gluckauf”, the world’s first ocean going tanker, and the “Tina Onassis”, with the others to be chosen shortly. Once photographed, the original paintings will remain Jeanne’s property.

Vahle+nikolaisen, a graphic design company, also based in Denmark produces the calendar for Hemple. In 2010, “Heading Home” (left), Jeanne Tubman’s painting of the U.S.C.G. Mackinaw, was chosen for the cover of the Hemple calendar “Icebreakers”.

The theme for the 2017 calendar is “tankers”, and Hemple has chosen six historic vessels which Vahle+nikolaisen has commissioned Jeanne to paint. The first is the “Zoroaster” an 1877 steamer with a separate oil tank built into the ship. That will be followed by the “Gluckauf”, the world’s first ocean going tanker, and the “Tina Onassis”, with the others to be chosen shortly. Once photographed, the original paintings will remain Jeanne’s property.

U OF M MAKING AND LEARNING WORKSHOP AT PICKFORD LIBRARY

This workshop on “Making and Learning”, presented by professors and students from the University of Michigan’s School of Information, will focus on developing a robust culture of “making” in schools, libraries, civic organizations, and youth groups. Intended audience is teachers, counselors, librarians, and youth leaders who are looking to broaden their offerings, as well as anyone in the EUP interested in the maker movement. You may attend all or part of the workshop. Continuing education credits are available to participants who attend the full three days. Pickford Library: 906-647-1288. See Pickford, p. 7, June 20.

See p. 15 for information on the free June 23, Makerfest at the Pickford Library.

PAINT WITH RANDY AT THE SOO THEATRE

Arty Parties are June 15, at 7 p.m. & July 20, at 7 p.m.

Arty Parties: Arty Parties are opportunities for people to get together with others who would like to paint, but might not want to commit to buying all the supplies or have the time for a series of classes. The Parties include instructions, and all the paint, brushes, paper or canvas needed for each project. Party leader Randy Krause says that painting is a wonderful pastime; a hobby with many rewarding moments, and she hopes to encourage prospective artists, while providing a fun, and informative experience. She usually leads three or four Arty Parties each year; most are at the Soo Theatre. Participation is limited to 12 for Acrylics and 20 for Watercolors, depending on the location. The price is $35.00, and the parties usually run two to three hours.

People participating in the parties planned for June 15, and July 20, will be painting with acrylics. The painting for the June 15, party is on the right; that for the July 20, party is yet to be chosen.

CLASSES

Water Media Classes for adults or children are $60 for 3 sessions. Times to be arranged.

To sign up for parties or classes, call the Theatre at 906-632-1930.

Private Lessons are also available at $35 per person and should be arranged directly with Randy at 906-635-0879. See more on Randy on p. 14.

MUSIC IN THE SOO LOCKS PARK

The Music in the Park Series begins June 15, with a Soo Theatre Project preview of their upcoming season. This year’s series of nine concerts contains a lot of sparkle and variety. All concerts are free at 7 p.m. on Wednesdays in the Soo Locks Park. You’ll want to bring something to sit on.

JUNE

Wed. 15—SOO THEATRE PROJECT preview of the upcoming season.

Wed. 22—Steelton Steel Band. Brass ensemble.

Wed. 29—The Pub Runners. Irish, folk and sing-a-long.

JULY

Wed. 6—Gentleman George. Traditional country.

Wed. 13—Blue Water Ramblers. Traditional country, folk & original songs.

20—The Band Brooks. Classic rock, country, variety.

Wed. 27—Petoskey Steel Drum Band. Sounds of the Caribbean.

AUGUST

Wed. 3—Hawk Junction. New and alternative country.

Wed. 10—Lise White and Friends. Variety of popular and swing music.

Wed. 17—The Snyders. Funky Chicago style blues.

Wed. 24—Country Classics Dance Band. 60’s-70’s country—polkas, waltzes, two-steps, line dances.

Wed. 31—The Cookies. Dance music featuring the sounds of Motown, oldies, funk and top 40.

JUNE SOO THEATRE EVENTS

The Soo Theatre launches its June programming with a concert on the 4th featuring both the Northland Barbershop Chorus, with “Laughter and Love Songs” and the Lock Cities Chorus of Sweet Adelines with “Harmony House”. On June 15, it kicks off the Sault Music in the Park programming with a Soo Theatre summer season preview. The kids take over June 24 and 25, with “Shrek Jr”. In addition, there are two “Raise the Roof Blues and Brews” concerts scheduled—Kiss tribute band on Saturday, June 11, and Dragon Wagon (described as “Blue Grass Folk Rock with a shot of Irish Whiskey”) for two performances, June 17 and 18. All performances are at 7 p.m. except for the Saturday Shrek performance, which is at 2 p.m. This is in addition, of course, to ongoing classes and rehearsals for the rest of the ambitious season.
SUPPORTING THE ARTS
NEWS & NOTES

IT’S ABOUT TIME

It’s About Time, last month’s LSSU Arts Center’s 5 x 7” exhibition and fundraiser, closed with some of the paintings unsold. It’s wonderful what can be fit into a 5 x 7” space and not look crowded. It’s also nice to buy a piece of art and not have to search for a spot to fit it. 5 x 7’s can be grouped (easy, because it’s a themed exhibit) or scattered for a bit of color and interest in a place too small for anything else. The $50 per painting earned from the sales of the 5 x 7’s goes to support the Sunrise Rotary’s charitable projects and future Arts Center Gallery exhibitions.

If you didn’t make it up there before the exhibit closed, a sampling of some of the work that remains surrounds this article. If you are interested in purchasing a 5 x 7, give Sharon Dorrity a call at (906) 635-2665 or e-mail: sdorrity@lssu.edu.

POPPIES IN MY GARDEN

Randy Krause now has paintings printed on fabric or scarves online at VIDA. The link is Poppies in My Garden. Randy’s been a busy lady, with Arty Parties and classes at the Soo Theater (see p. 10) plus her own painting. Look for her at our August 2, festival as well.

APPRAISER MARK MORAN will be at three area libraries in July. Moran, an appraiser for more than twenty years, is a guest expert on PBS’s Antiques Roadshow and is a contributing editor to Antique Trader Magazine, in addition co-authoring over twenty-five books on antiques and collectibles. He had a highly successful visit to the EUP last year.

Moran will appear at the Brevort Library on Thursday, July 28, between noon and 3 p.m.; at the Les Cheneaux Community Library on Friday, July 29, from noon to 3, and at the Bayliss Library on Saturday, July 30, between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Those desiring appraisals must register and pay in advance at their library of choice. Space is limited. Appraisals are verbal, not written.

Moran appraises most items. Each library has a list of categories he can appraise. For a fee, he is also available to visit homes to assess collections. Visit www.markfmoran for more information.

From the Pickford Library—a free evening of family activities

PICKFORD MAKERFEST, Tuesday, June 21, from 6:39 to 8 p.m. at the Pickford Arts and Learning Center

Mark your calendars—the University of Michigan “maker squad” is coming, and you are invited to a FREE evening of fun-filled activities for the whole family. Make your own creations using 3-D printers, microcontrollers, etchings, legos, sewing, knitting, junk box materials, and much more.

Registration is not required—just drop by for the experience! The Pickford Community Library is one of 8 libraries in the state chosen for this year's University of Michigan Making in Michigan Libraries Road Trip.

For more information, contact the Pickford Community Library at 906-647-1288 or amsmith@uproc.lib.mi.us. Come join in the fun at the Pickford Arts and Learning (PAL) Center next to the Pickford Community Library at 230 East Main Street in downtown Pickford.
